

Quiz: Commonly Confused Words

Choose the word in parentheses that completes each sentence correctly.

She worked harder (than, then) she had ever worked before.	She worked harder than she had ever worked before.
Get your facts first, and (than, then) you can distort them as much as you please.	Get your facts first, and then you can distort them as much as you please.
(Whose, Who's) shorts are hanging from the flagpole?	Whose shorts are hanging from the flagpole?
(Whose, Who's) hiding in your closet?	Who's hiding in your closet?
Justin has (alot, a lot) of problems.	Justin has a lot of problems.
The program changes will not (affect, effect) you.	The program changes will not affect you.
The (affects, effects) of climate change are already appearing in places from Miami to Alaska.	The effects of climate change are already appearing in places from Miami to Alaska.
What is your (principal, principle) reason for moving to Chicago?	What is your principal reason for moving to Chicago?
Last year Becky (lead, led) the league in goals.	Last year Becky led the league in goals.
There cannot be a crisis next week: my schedule is (all ready, already) full.	There cannot be a crisis next week: my schedule is already full.
Kate (implied, inferred) that she had a good alibi, but Jack (implied, inferred) otherwise from her nervous behavior.	Kate implied that she had a good alibi, but Jack inferred otherwise from her nervous behavior.
Critics are predicting that the TV series CSI won't last much longer because (fewer, less) people are watching it these (days, daze).	Critics are predicting that the TV series CSI won't last much longer because fewer people are watching it these days.
Although the recording (device, devise) was primitive, (you're, your) voice came across clearly.	Although the recording device was primitive, your voice came across clearly.
I was (conscience, conscious) after the collision but (to, too) frightened (to, too) move.	I was conscious after the collision but too frightened to move.
(Quiet, Quite, Quit) was restored, and the judge (preceded, proceeded) with the case.	Quiet was restored, and the judge proceeded with the case.
Following the ice storms, (there, their, they're) (maybe, may be) a plague of locusts and a swarm of frogs.	Following the ice storms, there may be a plague of locusts and a swarm of frogs.
The handle was (lose, loose) and could (have, of) fallen off at any moment.	The handle was loose and could have fallen off at any moment.

<https://www.thoughtco.com/review-quiz-commonly-confused-words-1689950>