

I was working yesterday (My friends)
My friends weren't working yesterday

Maria wasn't reading a newspaper (We)
We were reading a newspaper

The children were eating breakfast (I)

I wasn't eating breakfast

We weren't doing our homework (Henri)

Henri was doing his homework

He was watching television (We)

We weren't watching television

I wasn't wearing a hat (You)

You were wearing a hat

The president was eating cherries from Céret (His ministers)

His ministers weren't eating cherries from Céret

You weren't listening to the teacher (I)

I was listening to the teacher

We were swimming in the sea today (Maria)

Maria wasn't swimming in the sea today

They weren't playing football (We)

We were playing football

They were running very fast (You)

You weren't running very fast

You weren't working very hard (The students)

The students were working very hard

The weather was pleasant last week (Our holiday)

Our holiday wasn't pleasant last week

The girls weren't eating ice cream (Joe)

Joe wasn't eating ice cream

I was living in London in 1970 (My parents)

My parents weren't living in London in 1970

Jack wasn't waiting for a train (Tim and Kate)

Tim and Kate were waiting for a train